BUY ONLY TAGGED SEED.

Commissioner of Agriculture B. Harris sends us the following communication relative to the purchase of seeds of various kinds for planting in our State. In his letter accompanying this information, Mr. Harris takes occasion to say: "It has been noted by the department that quite a number of merchants and others buying grain for seed purposes have had considerable trouble in securing grain of good quality and good germination. Some of the merchants in this State have bought grain for seed purposes, but it was not tagged as seed, neither did their invoices state it, and after planting it was found that the grain was a poor quality. The matter was usually taken up with the shippers, who stated the grain was not tagged seed, neither was it sold for seed, and under the State law there was no way in which to protect the buyer."

Mr. Harris's advice and caution to seed purchasers are as follows:

"The Department of Agriculture, Commerce and Industries of South Carolina wishes to warn all merchants, farmers and others that every precaution should be taken in purchasing oats, wheat, rye and other grains for fall planting. When any grain is bought for seed purposes, the buyer should see that all tags attached to the seed, as well as the invoice, should state plainly that it is for seed purposes. An inspector will be sent to any one upon request to draw an official sample to test for germination, and this should be done when the seed is received and before being planted.

"In the past it has been found that quite a number of merchants and others who bought oats, wheat, rye and other grains for seed purposes, planted it and later found the germination was poor. Quite a lot of the grain was bought for seed purposes, but the shipper failed to brand it as such, and when it was found that the germination was not of the best, the matter was taken up with the shippers, and their reply was that it was not branded or sold for seed purposes. There is a State law requiring all grain sold for seed purposes to be tagged as such, and the germination must be good."

The purchase of seed grain, and other seeds as well, is a very important matter, and too much care cannot be exercised in buying. It is nothing but right that every buyer of seeds for planting should avail himself of the protection that the law gives him. It is merely exercising common sense and availing one's self of the benefit of the State's vigilance in regard to an essential to successful farming or growing of any crop.

HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS.

That joke Mr. Dalton, please! Call down the Walhalla-Seneca highway.

A little work on this splendid highway would be decidedly in order. Look to it, friend Dalton; it's up to you. The condition of the whole road is gradually getting worse, and unless something is done soon—it will not take a great deal of work—the road is going to go really bad rapidly. Remember the old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine." Let's see something done p. d. q. to keep this highway in shape. It is a piece of work that deserves the very best possible attention.

The work of ditch-digging for the water mains is progressing rapidly, and the main street of Walhalla is in a deplorable condition, owing to this work and the fact that nothing is being done on the north side of Main street, where, so far as the construction company is concerned, the work is finished. Why not give a little attention and work on that side of the street, and thus make at least one side passable before the long rains set in. And then, too, what about the streets on which no sewer or water pipes will be put down? A little work on these streets which citizens are being compelled to use, being shut off from the main streets, would not be amiss. Let's think about this matter. We realize, just as fully as any one, that the streets of Walhalla are going to be more or less torn up for some time to come, but the convenience of the entire population can be materially added to by just a little work now and then. Our City Council might well give this matter serious consideration.

And then we might jab a pin into our friends down Seneca way. The red, rocky hill leading into that town from the Walhalla-Seneca highway, has long needed attention. We judge that this is Seneca's business, but we do not know this to be a fact. Fact is, however, that it is somebody's business—and it isn't being attended to. If you have ever taken the side degree dubbed "The Rocky Road to Jericho" you can take it over again at any time you may wish by simply making the trip into Seneca over that red hill. It needs work worse than any place in Oconee county, so far as we have observed.

And while we are jabbing pins we might just as well stick one into our friends over at Westminster. Her streets are little better than those of Walhalla—without the excuse that we have for such conditions. Somebody is careless over there, and by their carelessness are very materially marring their good town. Think about the matter—and do something—if it's only to get mad at us. That generally helps a lot.

At any rate, this is out of our system and we feel better about it.

"Are all 'tankers' ocean-going ships?" inquires the Greenville Piedmont. We wonder, now, if times have so radically changed that the Piedmont man never sees a "mountain schooner" any more. Most decidedly all "tankers" are not "ocean-going ships."

We have received at The Courier office the first copies of the Cherokee Times, a very interesting and ably edited semi-weekly newspaper published at Gaffney. J. B. Bull is editor, F. W. McDaniel and Miss Lella Morgan, associates, and C. F. Shields, business manager. The Times is fair to make itself felt in Cherokee county, and we wish the new enterprise a full measure of success.

Postmaster General Work has recently announced that "you can go to Europe for twelve cents," but on three conditions—"first, you've got to die; second, you must be cremated; third, your ashes must not weigh more than one pound." No, thank you, Workie. We prefer to go in the flesh and pay full fare. The other mode savors too much of Conan Doyle of recent months—and "gas-plasms," for which we have no liking.

BOUNTY LAND-RICHLAND NEWS.

Auto Turns Turtle, Injuring Several, but no Fatalities—Local News.

Bounty Land, Aug. 14.—Special: There were quite a number of delightful entertainments last week—so many, in fact, that your correspondent feels sure that she cannot do justice as to accuracy of report. However, will do our best in the short time at our disposal.

Quite a number from this vicinity attended the delightful reunion of teachers and pupils of Fairview last Thursday and are vociferous in their praise and appreciation of the hospitable manner in which they were entertained. The Fairview people know exactly how to inure their friends, and even strangers, with that feeling of affiliation which cannot fail of appreciation.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Mattie J. McDonald entertained quite a number of the grandmothers of the vicinity, and needless to say that this meeting was one of the best ever held. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. J. T. Reid, of Anderson, and Mrs. M. H. Isbell, of South Georgia, sister and sister-in-law of the hostess. Guests were received by Mesdames W. C. Foster and N. S. Blackwell, who seated them in the spacious hall and front porch, which were elaborate in decorations of roses, scarlet verbenas and an exquisite variety of dahlias. After the guests were all assembled, all joined in the old, touching, but ever appreciated song, "When you and I were young, Maggie," the air being softly played by W. H. Hughs on the violin which was once owned by the late Mr. Isbell, father of the hostess. This time-honored and highly prized instrument is now in Mr. Hughs' possession. Mr. Hughs rendered many of the old-time tunes on the violin during the afternoon. There were no contests in this entertainment, the time being spent in delightful conversation. Delectable pineapple cream and cake were served by Mesdames W. C. Foster, N. S. Blackwell and J. N. McDonald. Later in the afternoon the guests were treated to liberal slices of luscious watermelons. Before the departure of the guests the song, "God be with you 'Till We Meet Again," was softly and touchingly played by Mr. Hughs, while the guests joined in singing, with hearts thrilling with the sadness of separation, for on no two occasions is the assemblage the same.

At this enjoyable meeting those who participated were Mesdames C. E. Gambrell, S. H. Coe, R. M. Davis, Lewis, W. H. Hughs, Broom, J. W. Sholor, T. B. Wyly, S. M. Hunsinger, J. D. McMahon, J. D. Shanklin, Julia McDonald, J. T. Ried and the hostess, who were the grandmothers. Other guests who have not already been mentioned were Mrs. R. D. McDonald, Mrs. Elbert Foster, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. McDonald, Mrs. Anna Dickson and daughter, Miss Julia.

Mrs. William V. Davis, of Tuskegee, Ala., and her mother, Mrs. W. L. Standly, of Columbia, Miss., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Davis. Mrs. J. T. Ried and granddaughter, Miss Ruby Ried, who have been visiting Mrs. M. J. McDonald during the past fortnight, have returned to their home in Anderson.

Miss Carolyn Stribling, of Atlanta, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. N. McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McDonald, of Westminster, were guests for a short while of relatives in this vicinity.

A unique entertainment of last week was a "Hen Party" given by our efficient teachers on Friday afternoon at the school house. All the mothers in the immediate vicinity of the school, and many others who are interested in the school, were invited to come and to bring a hen or its price to raise money for the purchase of new seats for the school. Quite a number of ladies were present, and a number of hens were brought. We have not learned just the amount collected, but whatever it is will be a supplement to funds in the treasury of the improvement association. Misses Ballenger and McMahon had prepared an interesting program, in which an original acoustic, by Miss Ballenger, using the letters of the word "chicken," was an outstanding feature. A reading by Miss Bennie Owens on "Care of Poultry," "Chicken Little's Children," by half dozen small children, and a humorous poem on the "hen party," by Mrs. Doyle, completed the program. Delicious iced lemonade and cake were served. The meeting adjourned to form the "Gipsy Smith Circle" in the home of Mrs. E. L. Stone. This was indeed an afternoon of enjoyment. Mrs. Stone's hospitality as hostess was unbounded, and the hour was fraught with both profit and pleasure. The book on "Stewardship" was finished at this meeting. Liberal cuts of watermelons were served.

On Friday afternoon Misses Pearl and Lalla Ballenger gave their annual entertainment to the ladies of Richland auxiliary, the occasion being the opening of "blessing boxes," the contents of which is always donated to the Thornwell Orphanage. The members hold this meeting in anticipation months in advance of the happy realization because we know from past experiences how beautifully these ladies entertain and what an ideal home of unrestrained hospitality the Ballenger home is. So an unusually large attendance was present on this occasion and experienced no disappointed hopes. The president and vice president of the auxiliary both being absent, Mrs. Jasper Doyle, the secretary, presided. Rev. Marshall Woodson conducted the devotional and gave most interestingly the story of Jesus in the Bethany home, where Mary so willingly gave the precious ointment to the Master. A solo was beautifully rendered by Miss Vera Coe, with Miss Ballenger as pianist. The collection amounted to $17.91. Refreshing punch was served at intervals throughout the occasion, the bowl being presided over by Misses Nettie Hubbard and Vera Coe. During the social hour which followed the program delicious ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. C. H. Humphries and children, of Walhalla, were late guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Maxwell.

Mrs. Freda Hughs Berry and little son Bill, who have been on an extended visit to relatives in Pickens, returned last week to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughs.

S. A. and Miss Sallie Davis accompanied J. B. Shanklin and family, of Anderson, to Atlanta last week.

E. Wilkinson Hughs has accepted a position in the Walhalla depot.

R. D. McDonald, candidate for the Legislature from this county, will speak in the park at Seneca next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wyly, of Lumberton, N. C., are on a visit to the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wyly.

Mrs. C. K. Rankin, of Jordan, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. R. N. Rankin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Woolbright and children, who have been visiting in Atlanta for a week or two, have returned home.

E. L. Stone, of Laurens, spent the week-end with his family here.

Mrs. Alice Wilson and daughter, Mrs. Emily Shoemaker, and the latter's two children, who have been on an extended visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stribling and other relatives in the State, will return Wednesday to their home at Granbury, Texas.

Mrs. W. R. Lynch, who has been confined to her bed for several weeks, leaves to-day for Anderson hospital to undergo an operation. Her many friends everywhere who are known are anxiously awaiting developments in her condition, and hope for her early recovery.

A Serious Auto Accident.

One of the most dangerous automobile accidents which it has ever been our lot to report, and one which came near resulting fatally, occurred last Thursday afternoon near

This is an ideal time for painting. You have perhaps put off repainting now for some time, as the price has been high.

We have good stocks of May we have the pleasure of making an estimate on your Paint Needs?

Ballenger Hardware Co.

Seneca, S. C.

Gray Court, when the car being driven by Mrs. A. S. Rollins and occupied by the Rollins family and Misses Irene and Virginia Getty, of Charleston, "turned turtle," seriously injuring two of the occupants, while the other seven, except one, were more or less scratched and bruised.

The accident occurred near Gray Court in a perfectly beautiful and level stretch of road, and was caused by a rear wheel coming off. Those who witnessed the tragedy described the car as having zig-zagged to the right and left twice, whirling round, then jumping high up and turned topsyturvy over the nine frightened occupants, who were screaming from injuries and fright. The tragedy occurred near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baiter, near Gray Court, in whose home they spent the night, and who proved themselves "good Samaritans" indeed, in every way trying to relieve their pain.

The injuries were as follows: Mr. Rollins, a deep gash cut on the head and internal bruises in chest; Miss Virginia Getty, painful bruises about the face; Mrs. Rollins, injuries about one eye. All the children except one received scratches and cuts. Indeed it was marvelous, and even miraculous, that no fatalities occurred.

The party were en route from Charleston to Long Creek Academy, where they anticipated an outing. They are at present in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Perritt and will probably leave for Long Creek Tuesday.
